

While you may not believe it, many in the public are aware of your pro corporate deregulation. Your recent review of cross-ownership ban permits deep conflicts of interest. It allows the further degeneration of print. Furthermore, it allows the spoon feeding of the public information which can only be seen as corporate propaganda. No alternative voices will emerge from your policies, unless they, too, buy into the system; hence, cash alone becomes the barometer of the validity and reach of any alternative voice.

Lifting the cross-ownership ban to allow further media consolidation will not serve the public interest. I urge you to reconsider the implications of a state sponsored media.
